Customs Brokerage

Handling customs brokerage can be very problematic, especially with post Covid 19 pandemic- related challenges

High Operational Cost

With the volatility of transit times and cumbersome clearance processes, warehousing and storage fees add up quickly whenever there is a delay. This leads to an increase in cost of doing business

Shipping Policies

Strict shipping policies introduced by shipping carriers have resulted in delays in shipment, unloading, higher freight rates and higher port traffic.

Right Team

Business dealings today have become a bit challenging because you cannot trust that the business you are dealing with has the right team to execute to your satisfaction.
